The "Celebration of Spring" is tied to the earth in so many ways. This theme, "Celebrating Spring", unites our window display for our Featured Artists for both jewelry and for wall art. Debra's jewelry uses Minerals and Gemstones pulled from the earth uniting her combinations into striking organic pieces. Susan's photography art relies heavily on her Audubon experiences focusing on birds.

March particularly is a month of migration where the birds fly North again, ready to begin a new cycle. The window uses origami, the traditional Japanese paper art, to recall the great March migration of the Sandhill Cranes. The crane has long been used in Origami, the art of folding paper. Our Florida Sandhill Cranes do not migrate whereas the rest of the North American species do. And, The Platte River in Nebraska during the month of March is where up to 600,000 Sandhill Cranes gather before heading back to Canada, Alaska, and even as far as Siberia. It is truly a sight to see and to hear. Some say when the cranes take off, there are so many of them that it darkens the sunlight. Photographers from around the world travel there to capture these magnificent birds grouped like at no other time during the year. Many cranes pick their mate for life during this March meet-up. The remnants of last year's corn crop found in the Nebraska fields provide the extra nutrients needed for the birds' long flight. Actually, the birds are known to put on a full pound of fat needed for their long trip home during the month of March.

"Celebrating Spring" indeed is tied to new life, longer days of sunlight, and feelings of renewal.

Come, help Celebrate Spring at Artisans on fifth by purchasing a new piece of art for your home or by purchasing a piece of jewelry for yourself or a loved one. Don't forget to stop by to meet Debra and Susan on March 21st between 2:00 and 4:00 pm and receive 10%

Question: What is this display about?

Answer: For me, this display is about my love of birds, especially Florida Birds. We are so lucky to live in Central Florida where we have access to untold wilderness areas where the birds love to congregate, especially in the winter months. March and April are the big migration months of the year for all of the migrating birds. We used the Sandhill Cranes to symbolize this new journey, this new celebration because they are just so majestic and so eye-catching.

Question: Where Did this Inspiration come from?

Answer: From my years being on the Board of Directors for Orange Audubon Society, I realize the importance of outreach and education on birds. The core inspiration, though, goes back to my love of birds and a strong desire to save their habitat so the future will be filled with all of the birds we have today.

The Flamingo on one leg below is my featured piece for the window. It is new, a print on Acid-free rag paper mounted on a board and framed with glass.

Question: What is this display about?

Answer: This display is about the renewal of life and of spirit. It symbolizes a new beginning in all things and a rejuvenation of sorts. To that end, I incorporate earthly connected material to create my jewelry such as fossils, petrified wood, coral, and or raw emerald and rubies.

Question: Where did your inspiration come from?

Answer: Inspiration comes to me by doing. When finding a unique piece of nature-produced material, creative intuition takes over to assemble a special brooch, bracelet, necklace, or earrings.
